To whom it may concern,

I have known Katarzyna Sokalla for one semester as a private voice student and as a member of the musical theater/opera scenes workshop which I direct at Berklee College of Music.

I have found Katarzyna to be a talented singer. She has a lovely voice and puts much of her energy into developing her performance skills. She is a very capable singer of musical theater and classical music. She also performs with the Berklee Gospel Choir and the Vocal Summit.

Although Katarzyna has a strong background in musical studies, she is in many ways just beginning her work as a singer and musician. In order for her to continue to grow vocally and to broaden her educational horizons, I feel that she needs to continue and complete her in depth work at Berklee.

I feel that Katarzyna Sokalla deserves any financial help which can be offered. I will be happy to talk to anyone about Katarzyna and can be reached at (617) 266-1400 ext. 513.

Sincerely,

Anne Peckham
